Liability Release and Express Assumption of Risk Form

I (name of sailing club member) understand that Sports Forum for the Disabled is a registered charity and as such cannot accept any liability for any personal injury (including death), or property damage suffered during its activities, whether caused by the negligence of its voluntary crew or in any other way, and that I am entirely responsible for my own safety whilst on board the vessel or its surrounds. I understand also that no individual crew member shall be individually liable, whether through their negligence or otherwise for any personal injury (including death) or property damage suffered in relation to the activities of the charity.

When you have completed this form, it would help us if you could hand it to the skipper on the day of sailing before you board the boat.
